MESSAGE

"To understand life is to understand ourselves and that is both the beginning and end of education". LIFE is in its truest sense all about Learning, Innovation, Fulfillment and Empowerment which in real terms is the essence of education.

Today's children can meet the future challenges if their school prepares them for adult roles such as citizens, employers, artists, doctors, engineers, lawyers, volunteers, entrepreneurs and so on. To achieve their full potential as adults, young students need to imbibe a range of skills and knowledge that facilitates mastery and application of Languages, Mathematics, Sciences and other disciplines.

We at BLUE BELLS create an environment where progressive learning methods help students to acquire deep knowledge which enables them to use what's learned in one situation and apply the same in a new situation. Emphasis is not just on knowledge but also on skills like reasoning, collaboration, communication, critical thinking and problem solving to name a few.

Our Transdisciplinary curriculum that incorporates activity and skill based learning ensures that students learn "How to Learn" as that's the key to readiness for their future that's waiting for them.

Our students are confident individuals who are encouraged to set their own targets and the school takes pride in the fact that many of them tread on the path to a successful future. I wish to extend my heartiest congratulations to Lakshay Mudgal of Class XII who made us immensely proud by being the Second City Topper in Science Stream in AISSEE. I also congratulate all the students of Classes X and XII and also their parents for their brilliant results in the Board Examinations.

I heartily congratulate the Robotronics Team of the school for their meritorious win at the IRC Open League 2016 at Singapore and clinching the first Position. Such laurels by our students reiterate our faith in the vision and mission of the school which believes in "Connecting to Learn and Collaborating to Achieve" in its pursuance to provide an 'Education that inspires Confidence'.
